A Message of Hope

Inspired writing

Times are short and times are long; we are moving at great speed towards the end of enlightenment. With time in time's earth-plane state, it is important to note that all that has been is now.

No more shall we suffer with the false pretense of fear, guilt and manipulation, for the truth always shines brightest at the point of recognition. We are letting go of what has stopped us from seeing and now the curtain that has blinded us from the light is falling away.

The planet will unite as one and understand that everything that has happened to the small, happens to the large. We are not separate from one another but a reflection of a hologram, with each individual part acting as the whole. As you are inspired to move towards the greatness of your soul all others are inspired as well. The power of one is the power of many and vise versa.

At the critical point of recognition we will all see this in each other: that we are no different from our neighbours, we are only seeing the differences within the eyes of perception in which we are given. As our perception changes to a world view we are able to think and feel with one heart on a global level. This is the end of suffering. As we love ourselves and see that love in others, all will be forgiven. We are all love and it is the love that binds the atoms and molecules in our bodies, in the plants and in the animals, rocks and water to create this miracle that is life. Once we agree to this one basic concept we will achieve peace. It starts one heart at a time, with just one smile. Be who you are and love who you are. It can change the world.

What's coming up for Autumn . . .

A general reading for all of my clients, friends and family.

Cards pulled: Death, Prince of Cups and The High Priestess

September is always a month of great change—kids are returning to school, new classes are starting at the local recreation centres and so much more. This month represents an end to summer (although in Victoria we are blessed with great weather until October) and that is why the first card to come up is Death. In Tarot this card is interpreted as both an ending and a beginning. As the warmth of summer and long days start to slowly slip away, we are given opportunity to once again shed the old and re-emerge with new confidence and drive for achieving our goals and making our dreams come true. New opportunities will bubble up from the great unknown to bless our lives with beautiful synchronicities. New friends and neighbours emerge as do new ideas and direction. Change is good (especially when it comes in the form of loonies and toonies).

The Prince of Cups is showing up to remind us that now is a great time to reflect on what our desires and wishes are. This helps to promote positive intention in our actions and to use the law of attraction to our greatest benefit. I would suggest making a dream manifestation board. This is a simple and fun art exercise that will give you a constant reminder of what you are working towards and clarity as to what you want right now. Here are some things you will need to make your own: old magazines, glue, paint, pens, felts and a piece of Bristol board (you can find this at most dollar stores). First, make a list of your goals and intentions for the fall. Next, find or print out pictures, words, phrases and quotes that represent these dreams, desires and aspirations. Now glue them on and let your creativity flow! Place your dream manifestation board anywhere that will inspire you in your home; when you look at it, get excited and give your intentions love. The final step is patience, for the bigger the dreams the more time it takes to achieve!

The final card is the High Priestess (she's one of my favourites). This card asks us to listen to our inner voice and emotions. It is easy to get caught in the multitude of distractions that we have to face in our modern world and that is why it's important to take time not just to think about our decisions but to feel them. We have all been given the gift of intuition, and there is so much information that our emotions give us daily. As we learn to trust our inner impulses we are able to tap into the collective wisdom and use it to find more balance and peace in our lives. Take time to check in with yourself and see how you are feeling. The rule I live by is that if it feels good do it; if it doesn't, don't.

Just remember life is all about perception and what seems like a negative now can sometimes be your greatest blessing. Accept, love and appreciate how far you have come and where you're at!
