Peace, love and good times . . .

This has been an amazing year of growth, strength, community and new friends.

2009 has marked the beginning of many changes and has opened the doors of opportunity during trying times. As we move forward into the beautiful energy of consciousness rising, we must first shed the skin of the past, embracing the outer chaos—trusting that peace is within. Newness can represent challenges, but as our hearts dare to face them we find incredible courage and companionship. We are not alone. Love is all around.

What a year of change it has been! My goal this year has been to create community and to bring people together in the spirit of healing. Outdoor markets are where you can find me in the spring and summer and this past season I was pleased to participate in the Government Street Market, the Sidney Summer Market and the Moss Street Market. Combining my love of Tarot and music, I was the volunteer music coordinator for the Moss Street Market; I had the honour of bringing in some wonderful musicians and playing at the market myself. I love markets because they promote small business, artisan work and my favourite C word – community!

As Persephone (the goddess of spring) was making her way into the underworld to spend the chilly months with her hot husband Hades, I was busy organizing the first Island Intuitive Arts Festival at the Orange Hall in Fernwood. It was a labour of love and I was very pleased with the overall success of the event. Over 170 people came out to enjoy 2 days of workshops, diverse healers, psychics, shamans and yummy food. The intention of the festival was to bring like-minded individuals together in celebration of spirit, intuition and community.

On November 11, 2009 myself and my partner Adam Zonnis opened a new community healing studio called the Red Gate Intuitive Arts Centre. The idea behind the space was to bring healers, psychics and the arts together to move forward with abundance and prosperity. Victoria has so many little pockets of community and I would love to help to bring them together, so that we can learn from each other. The healing space features a private office, workshop room, a community room and (coming in the spring) a rooftop garden. My vision for the garden is to get a group of artists together to paint a mural on the fence that encloses the space. Each artist would get one month of the year to display their personal work at the Red Gate with a kick off art show along with a workshop punch card. If you or anyone you know is interested in taking part in this project, please email me, I will be making selections by March.

We will be using the space to offer Tarot and Tea leaf Readings, Shiatsu treatments, weekly workshops including Intuition classes and Open Healing nights, and special events. Rentals are available on a daily, weekly or monthly basis for affordable rates.

One of my favourite parts about opening the studio has been relocating my work and life to the vibrant community of Fernwood. It's been a while since I've lived here and I'm amazed by the progress and the unity of the community. What a dream to wake up every morning to bubbles being blown in the square and smiling faces that know your name at the Cornerstone Café. I feel welcome, embraced and at home in this eclectic neighbourhood of thriving artists, unique businesses and friends. I am thankful that fate brought me here and excited to see how I can add to the community.

Thank you to everyone that has come into my life this year. Each of you has taught me valuable lessons. Blessings have been manifesting. As I witness the miracle that is breathing in each individual it brings me closer to who I am and to the source of my creator. May peace and love fill your body with enlightenment, good health and abundance. Thank you for being you and letting me be me.

Special thanks to James Green and Shaw's Daily show for putting together such inspiring TV piece and Stacey Curtis and the Fernwood Vibe for the fantastic article.

Welcome 2010!

This is the year we get to step into our creativity and allow our personal expression to pour into all aspects of life. Changes and huge personal breakthroughs of 2009 will be grounded, as ideas turn to material manifestation. Plant your seeds and watch with love and light as they turn to trees. I feel as though many will step forward with courage to say out loud what their hearts have been telling them for years. Blending old ideas with the new will prove to bring good fortune to those who say yes to abundance and their artistic side.

Andrea is available for tarot, tea leaf and crystal readings in person, by phone, at private parties and special events. Workshops, classes and private intuition lessons are offered.
